Dedications

Steven J. Kornhaber

Steve is well-liked by all. Students are never hesitant to approach him with a question or a problem. Despite always being ready with a quick joke, Dr. K. is a very effective teacher. His unique approach to teaching is appreciated by all students. Steve's friendly and outgoing style, and the fact that he treats everyone on an equal level, makes him a welcome member in the student lounge. Steve is known for his "good hands," both on the floor and in the lounge. Thank you.

Dante J. Torrese

It is always a rare and enjoyable opportunity to work with an instructor who is truly devoted to his pupils. "Dr. T" really wants the students he works with to produce and learn, and he is always there with a smile and an encouraging word. As you roam the clinic floor with the infamous handlebar moustache, vou may not truly realize how much we appreciate your presence on the clinic floor. Somehow, the days you aren't here, there seems to be a little something missing. When we remember "Dr. T" it will be with respect, warmth, and gratitude. Thank You.

SCHOOL OF CENTAL AND ORAL SURGERY
Office of the Dean

630 West 168th Street

December 21, 1984

Dear Class of 1985,

Several years ago you made one of the most important decisions of your life. You decided to seek a Columbia education to prepare you for your professional life. Most of you were accepted at four or five other professional schools, yet you chose Columbia. Why? I know there have been numerous times when you asked yourselves that question over your years here!

One of the main reasons you chose Columbia was the school's excellent academic reputation for educating its students with an indepth knowledge. Hence, as you struggled with the basic sciences you knew ultimately it would "pay off" for you. The clinical years had their highs and lows also but through it came clear the faculty's message of excellence and concern in the caring for patients.

Yes, we believe you have been pushed here at Columbia. We know there were times of great stress, but we also know that you go forth with clear thinking and an adherence to a basic philosophy which will enable you to successfully cope during a time of some confusion in our profession.

As you begin to undertake the responsibilities of the profession, you will be faced with many challenges. You are well equipped to handle them. While at first times might be difficult, you will join previous Columbia graduates and find great success and satisfaction in the profession of dentistry.

Please remember that this faculty is always available for you. We wish you the best and hope you will stay close to the school throughout your professional life.

Sincerely,

allan J. Formicola, D.D.S.

I Am Not Resigned

Edna St. Vincent Millay

I am not resigned to the shutting away of loving hearts in the hard ground $% \left(1\right) =\left(1\right) \left(1\right)$

So it is, and so it will be, for so it has been, time out of mind

Into the darkness they go, the wise and the lovely. Crowned with lilies and with laurel they go: but I am not resigned

Lovers and thinkers, into the earth with you Be one with the dull, the indiscriminate dust

A fragment of what you felt, of what you knew

A form, a phrase remains --- but the best is lost

The answers quick and clear, the earnest look, the laughter, the love
They are gone

They are gone to feed the roses. Eloquent and curled

Is the bloom. Fragrant is the bloom I know. But I do not approve

More precious was the light in your eyes, than all the roses of the world.

We the senior class, believe that, without the continual, effervescent presence of Judy Blazer, the senior practice clinic would never have run half as smooth as it does. Judy B. is the veritable "middleman" You have to deal daily with us the students and at the same time with the administration. Whether we are complaining about clinic policy, requesting new patients, or just looking for someone to listen to a problem, you are always there. Thank you Judy for helping to make our senior year as smooth as possible.

To my brother, Brian,

Even though you haven't been my brother for very long, I want to congratulate you on your graduation. I wish you the best of luck and I hope you get everything you want. I'm so happy you're part of my family.

Love Always, Scott

To My Husband,

There's so much that I want to say, yet I'm not sure where to begin. Ever since you came into my life I've known so much happiness. We shared many wonderful moments and experienced a love all our own. And with each experience came a time when I thought the odds were against us, but you turned the tables in our favor.

These past few years have been tough. There's no denying it. I watched the pressure build up and I saw what it did to you. But nevertheless, I knew you'd reach your goal and I never had a doubt that you'd let anything stand in your way. Though our climb to the top is still in motion, I know that you'll make it. We'll make it.

Today, I'm so very proud of you. Proud of all that you are and proud to share your life. Today, more than ever, I LOVE YOU so much!

With — ENDLESS LOVE, Sha

Doctor Bri — we wish you lots of luck. We hope you don't turn out like other dentists — ripping off your patients just to make a buck. You have struggled through Dental School and you're on your way to success, but your main goal is Orthodontics so don't stop to settle for less. We love you very much and we want to let you know, we wish you health & happiness so make a lot of dough!!! We hope your future endeavors turn out to be just grand as far as we stand.

Love Always, Lori, Jay & Mr. "T" Dear Brian.

For you

Mom & Dad

Only we know how this all started.

To the woman who has more beauty, brains, drive and common sense than anyone T've known in my lifetime.

My congratulations and my love.

The time has finally come to say good-bye to school, to people you were with for four very long years, people who shared your joy & sorrow, your successes & disappointments.

We just want to tell you how proud we are of you, of our drive and ambition and how happy we are to finally have a dentist in the family.

We'll always love you and be beside you no matter what, and we'll always be just one phone call away.

Love, Mom & Dad Louisa, Chris & Michael Grandma & Grandpa Vartenia

Congratulations to DR. DENISE ANN HARBURG

We always knew that you could do it But didn't know that we had to go through it At Columbia, it takes the very best We know, because you already passed that test Now at last! the time has come to say "Congratulations" We are proud of you on this day God Bless You Always.

— Love, Mom, Dad, & Brother Eric Dear Dee:

This is just the beginning of a most successful career.

I knew that you could do it and you'd be the best!

— Love, Artie
